

Preface

This study was undertaken by the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy in consultation with the State authorities and on a local consultancy assignment from the World Bank. It is a part of the first batch of a series of Fiscal Studies of the States.

The study team consists of Indira Rajaraman, Hiranya Mukhopadhyay and H.K. Amar Nath. Opinions expressed here are those of the authors. The members of the Governing Body of the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy are in no way responsible for these.

New Delhi
July 1, 1998

Ashok K. Lahiri
Director

Acknowledgements

We are indebted to our colleagues, in particular R.J.Chelliah, Ashok Lahiri, Amaresh Bagchi, D.K. Srivastava, O.P. Mathur, Tapas Sen, Kavita Rao, and Satish Kamath; Punjab State government officials listed below; and Shahrokh Fardoust, William McCarten, James Hanson, Mona Haddad, V.R. Ravi Shankar and Rajni Khanna of the World Bank for their advice and help. Detailed comments on an earlier version of the report by R.J. Chelliah; S.K. Tuteja of the Punjab State government; and three sets of World Bank referees were especially useful.

We thank Punjab State government officials who patiently answered our questions despite their busy schedules: S.K. Tuteja, Principal Secretary, Finance; Ramesh Inder Singh, Principal Secretary, Industry; A.K. Agarwal, Controller of Finance, PSEB; Sudhir Mittal, Excise and Taxation Commissioner; B.C. Gupta, Secretary, Transport; R.N. Gupta, Financial Commissioner, Development; K.R. Lakhanpal, Secretary, Education; Bikramjit Singh, Principal Secretary, Irrigation; S. S. Channy, Managing Director, Punjab Health System Corporation; Vijay Kain, Secretary, Expenditure; P. Ram, Secretary, Public Works Department; Prabhjot Singh Mand, Director of State Lotteries; Kashmir Singh Gill, Director of Public Instruction; K.S. Janjua, Financial Commissioner, Revenue; J.P. Gupta, Retired Financial Commissioner; and last but not least Satinder Pal Singh, Deputy Director, Finance and Pawan Kumar, Research Officer, Department of Finance.

We would also like to thank Pramod Kumar of the Institute for Development and Communications, Chandigarh and H.S. Shergill of the Department of Economics, Punjab University, Chandigarh.

We thank Deepa Raghavan, Project Associate, for research assistance and Promila Rajvanshi, for tirelessly and efficiently typing several drafts of the report.

Finally, we are grateful to Rita Wadhwa for transforming the report into its present format, and to Sushma Malhotra and Namita Bhatia who aided her in this task.

New Delhi

Indira Rajaraman
Hiranya Mukhopadhyay
H.K. Amar Nath